

JESSICA SINGERMAN, MFA

Press Kit

Photo Credit: David Rolfe, Winston Salem Journal

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Born in Bangor, Maine in 1980, Jessica Singerman lived alternatively in France and the United States during her early life. Singerman earned her BA magna cum laude with Highest Honors in 2002 from the College of William & Mary, Virginia, and her Masters of Fine Arts in 2004 from the University of Delaware while on a fellowship. Her watercolors are the subject of a book published in 2017, Little Watercolor Squares, and her award-winning paintings and drawings are exhibited and collected internationally.

In previous lives, Singerman taught yoga and worked as a guide leading epic bicycle tours all over Europe, Central America, and Australia. She is obsessed with bikes, loves to ride, sometimes races, and lives and works in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

The Field You Think You Own, oil and acrylic on canvas, 40x60"

JESSICA SINGERMAN

The Difference Between Nothing and Everything, 36x36"

Sweeping Green Blue Air, 30x30"

Piece of the Earth Piece of the Sky, 12x12"

Greenway Triptych, oil and acrylic on canvas, 40x100"

How to Satisfy the Bird, oil and acrylic on canvas, 40x30"

ABOUT THE WORK

I am inspired by the poetry of nature: color and light in the landscape, seasons, and the passing of time. My work is a kind of meditation and a love letter to life and painting. It is through painting and outdoor activity that I can quiet my mind, make sense of life, and explore spirituality.

I want my work to create wonder for people and to be evocative of the outdoor spaces that inspire us, like mountains, valleys, and skies.

For high resolution images and descriptions, CLICK HERE.

Carolina Art Crush: Jessica Singerman

We so enjoyed getting to know painter Jessica Singerman. A Davidson native who currently lives in Winston-Salem, she is driven by a strong work ethic and a need to create (as opposed to pressures of the art world) - we found her to be a breath of fresh air. We hope you like reading more about her and take a moment to enjoy her abstract landscape paintings.

p.s. She posts lots of behind the scenes pics at @jessicasingerman on Instagram. Check it out!

Click to view full article

Showing Up: Daily commitment to making art opens creative doors

By Lisa O'Connell Winston-Salem Journal Dec 13, 2017

Jessica Singerman in the studio of the Winston-Salem Journal. Photo by Lisa O'Connell.

Facebook share icons

Shortly after giving birth to her son five years ago, artist Jessica Singerman had a revelation.

"I realized I was losing my sense of self," said Singerman, 33. "The most obvious way to get it back was to start making art every single day rather than sporadically. I regained my sense of self, and I wanted to show my son, as he grew up, that I was hardworking."

It's doubtful anyone would question Singerman's work ethic. For years, she worked for

Click to view full article

Support for artists helps build creative spirit

Duke Energy's arts grants contribute to quality of life in smaller North Carolina towns.

Michael J. Solender
illumination Content Editor
May 23, 2018

SHARE THIS STORY

Abstract landscape painter Jessica Singerman doesn't live in a major art market like New York or London, so taking advantage of the digital universe helps bring her work to a wide audience.

She is developing her website to include digital video components to help demystify the creative process by sharing her approach and inspiration behind her art. That project got a boost with a 2018 Duke Energy Regional Artist Grant. The company, through the Arts Council of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County, awarded nearly $25,000 to 14 area artists.

"Receiving the grant and seeing the support for artists, especially in smaller communities, demonstrate that our work is valued," said Singerman of Winston-Salem, N.C. "Artists, especially in smaller communities, don't have many opportunities like this. It means a lot."

Jessica Singerman

For artists working in music, film, literature, dance, visual art and craft and living in Davidson, Davie, Forsyth, Stokes, Surry, and Yadkin counties in North Carolina, the regional artist grant program is making an impact. The company has given grants to arts councils in a number of other counties in the state, often supporting arts in schools.

Click to view full article

Blue Wool, oil and acrylic on canvas, 36x36"

AWARDS

2018 Duke Energy Regional Artist Project Grant, Arts Council of Winston Salem and Forsyth County

2016 Honorable Mention, SCOPE, The Southern Landscape Juried Exhibition,
Visual Arts Exchange, Raleigh, NC

2015 Honorable Mention, Carolina's Got Art, Juried Exhibition, Elder Gallery, Charlotte, NC

2015 Juror's Choice Award, Juried Exhibition, Mooresville Arts Guild, Mooresville, NC

2014 College of Arts & Sciences Award, MiniWorks Show, Jacksonville State University, Jacksonville, AL

2012 Bike Art Adelaide Grant for public art project, Adelaide, Australia

2002-04 Full Fellowship, Department of Art, University of Delaware, Newark, DE

2002 Phi Beta Kappa, College of William & Mary, Williamsburg, VA

Highest Honors in Art, College of William & Mary

2001 Minor Research Grant for Honors work, College of William & Mary

Thorley Scholarship, Department of Art and Art History, College of William & Mary.

JESSICA SINGERMAN

www.jessicasingerman.com

✉ create@jessicasingerman.com

📷 @jessicasingermanfineart

Light Igniting Fields, Trailing Clouds, oil and acrylic on canvas, 40x60"